

China Headlines

- From China's most influential and authoritative newspapers

China Headlines, also known as the database of Headlines of China Party Newspapers, is a unique research resource where front-page headlines from all central and provincial party newspapers are made available online for the first time in a single location.

Newspapers from local branches of the Communist Party provide the single location where the local government and the Communist Party branch announce their respective policies and disseminate governmental, political, and economic messages to the public. Front-page headlines of the party newspapers focus on the most recent important news, policies and other messages regarded important by the local party branch and provide a window of the government.

- The database provides a rare source to monitor China and study China's political dynamics.
- Cover all five party newspapers of the central level, including People's Daily, People's Daily Overseas Edition, Guangming Daily (Enlightenment Daily), Jingji Daily (Economic Daily), and PLA Daily;
- Cover all 31 party newspapers of the provincial level
