

People's Daily (1946 - Present)

人民日报

- The complete Run, with Today's Issue
- China's most Influential and Authoritative Newspaper

People's Daily is the official voice of the central government and the Communist Party of China. It provides the single location where the central government and the Communist Party announce their respective policies and disseminate governmental, political, and economic messages to the public and the world. Most importantly, since its inception the newspaper has been the true barometer of the political climate of Chinese society on a daily basis.

Directly from the People's Daily Press, this database contains the complete run of the past daily issues covering from 1946 to today's issue. With day-to-day records on the Chinese society, People's Daily provides you a must-have resource for Chinese studies.

- ▶ The license for institutional online access is authorized directly by the People's Daily Press
- ▶ This new version is a continuing database and is being updated on a daily basis

Main Features:

- The Complete Run - All past daily issues covering from 1946 to present ;
- Fully Internet Version -- No need to install, maintain a server;
- Fully full-text searchable -- Either in single or combined search;
- Fully downloadable and printable;
- Interchangeable between texts and images;
- UPDATED DAILY – Able to read/search Today's issue